Pro•Dual Inner and Outer Thigh

Body-Solid's Pro•Dual Inner and Outer Thigh Machine features a pop-in cam adjustment to users to select their own starting positional and range of motion. Four sealed, pillow-block ball bearing systems provide a smooth inner thigh and hip concentration.

With gracefully curved frames constructed from sleek, power-coated tubing that exhibits a modern, design-forward aesthetic, the Inner and Outer Thigh Machine builds form into function and value into a superior modular strength training system. Best of all, you can buy with confidence, because the Inner Thigh and Outer Thigh Machine is built to last a lifetime and is backed by the strongest warranty in the industry!
